

WROUGHTON
PARISH COUNCIL

FLAG FLYING POLICY

Version 1.0

DRAFT DECEMBER 2019

Objective

The flying of any flag must be viewed in the context in which it is flown or displayed. Factors affecting the context include the type, manner and frequency with which flags are flown. The Council has a responsibility to carefully consider the potential impact upon the community of flying flags on how that action may be interpreted.

This Policy reflects guidance from Central Government.

Context

2.1 The flying of flags is not the subject of statute law in England, Wales or Scotland. The Government liberalised the regulations surrounding the flying of flags in England in October 2012.

2.2 Under the Town and Country Planning (Control of Advertisements) (England) Regulations 2007, for planning permissions, flags are normally treated as a form of advertising. Therefore, some flags require formal consent from the planning authority before they may be displayed.

2.3 All flags, regardless of category, must be maintained in a condition which does not impair the overall visual appearance of the site, be kept in a safe condition have the permission of the site owner on which they are displayed and should not obscure or hinder the interpretation of road, rail, waterway or aircraft signs.

2.4 There are categories of flags which do not require consent from the local planning authority (although the flagpole from which they are flown may). These are:

- the national flags of any country
- the flags of the Commonwealth, the European Union and the United Nations
- the flag of any island, county, district, borough, parish, city, town or village
- the flag of St David and St Patrick
- the flag of any administrative area within any country outside of the UK
- the flags of Her Majesty's forces
- the Armed Forces Day Flag

The Council has the freedom to fly flags of this category on any day of the year.

2.5 There are a number of categories of flag that may be flown without consent, but which are subject to certain planning restrictions regarding the size of the flag, the size of characters on the flag, and the number and location of the flags. This applies to flagpoles located on a building or within the grounds of a building. These include:

- 'house flags' that display the name, emblem, device or trademark of the company (or person) occupying the building from which they are flown (or this may refer to a specific event of limited duration that is taking place in the building from which the flag is flown)
- any sports club

- the horizontal striped rainbow flag, such as the “Pride” Flag – this flag is an international symbol of the lesbian, gay, bisexual and transgender social movement. It is commonly flown by Local Authorities round Britain during local Pride celebrations in order to demonstrate their commitment to equality and the inclusion of all citizens, as it is widely interpreted as a universal symbol of freedom rather than the emblem a ‘political’ group.
- specified award schemes (such as ‘Investors In People’ and ‘Green Flag’).

2.6 The matter of flag flying on local government buildings is not bound by any specific directive. It remains for individual Local Authorities to establish their own flag flying protocols.

2.7 The flag flying policies of Local Authorities in the UK vary widely in their content, formality and the number of flagpoles available on each council building.

2.8 Advice is issued by the Department for Culture, Media and Sport (DCMS) on the flying of national flags on government buildings. This advice relates to government buildings only, but many councils follow the advice on a voluntary basis and it is widely considered to be best practice to do so.

2.9 The Flag and Heraldry Committee and the Flag Institute produced flag flying guidance in 2010. The guidance covers the protocol which applies to flying flags in a variety of situations and aims to ensure flags in the UK are flown correctly and treated with dignity and respect.
