

-----Original Message-----

From: C E Metalworks <cemetalworks@hotmail.co.uk>

Sent: 26 February 2021 19:26

To: Oli Armstrong <deputyclerk@wroughton.gov.uk>

Subject: Re: Wroughton Parish Council

Hi Oli

So to manufacture and install a pair of fixed galvanised sides would be £800.

All we would need is a picture of the rear posts and some measurements so we can work out how to fit them in and around the lumps and bumps on the rear posts, last thing you need is a big post in the way and reducing the load area.

Kind regards

Sent from my iPhone

> On 26 Feb 2021, at 19:20, C E Metalworks <cemetalworks@hotmail.co.uk> wrote:

>

> Hi Oli,

>

> In that case that's fine.

>

> So two fixed sides work great,

>

> Are we leaving the rear open? Or do you need something over the top of the tail lift?

>

> Kind regards

>

> Chris

>

> Ce Metalworks

>

> Sent from my iPhone

>

>> On 26 Feb 2021, at 16:07, Oli Armstrong <deputyclerk@wroughton.gov.uk> wrote:

>>

>> Hi Chris,

>>

>> The gap only has to be sufficient for machinery and tools to fit under the cage. Two solid sides would be suitable for our requirements.

>>

>> I look forward to hearing from you.

>>

>> Kind regards,

>>

>> Oliver Armstrong

>> Deputy Clerk

>>

>>

>> -----Original Message-----

>> From: C E Metalworks <cemetalworks@hotmail.co.uk>

>> Sent: 23 February 2021 06:36

>> To: Oli Armstrong <deputyclerk@wroughton.gov.uk>

>> Subject: Re: Wroughton Parish Council

>>

>> Ok yes, I'm trying to work out a few things, With the cages on the sides you won't get a lot throthe gab underneath, I could put a Sliding door in the side of the cage,

>>

>> I'm just trying to work out what is the best way of making it all work

>>

>> Sent from my iPhone

>>

>>>> On 18 Feb 2021, at 15:23, Oli Armstrong <deputyclerk@wroughton.gov.uk> wrote:

>>>>

>>>> Hi Chris,

>>>>

>>>> Thanks for your e-mail. Please find pictures attached.

>>>>

>>>> On review, I think the best option would be to have two metal cage sides at cab height to allow the use of the side drop down and rear tail lift.

>>>>

>>>> I look forward to hearing from you.

>>>>

>>>> Kind regards,

>>>>

>>>> Oliver Armstrong

>>>> Deputy Clerk

>>>>